

Old Fashion Bargain Days Are Coming To Hazard

"O.F.B.D."—What is it?
It's 10c ice cream cones for 1c—5c popcycles for 1c. It's a 50c bottle of aspirin for 10c, and $4.95 canister sets for 49c—a sweater and skirt set for $5 or a room lot of wallpaper for $1.
O.F.B.D. is $2.95 scatter rugs for 49c and a 60c bottle of shampoo for 35c. Or a $7.95 two-piece luggage set for $3.99.
And if you haven't guessed by now what the letters "O.F.B.D." mean—then I guess we'll have to admit they stand for:
"OLD FASHION BARGAIN DAYS," or the biggest four day sale promotion staged in Hazard since the gay nineties when a penny was the down payment on a "bicycle built for two."
Sale Starts Wednesday
The sale opens Wednesday with over 32 Hazard merchants participating. And the bargain wise woman never had it so good as she will through Saturday.
Besides the items already listed, there are tea towels, regularly priced at 27c each, O.F.B.D. listed at 2 for 25c. Fall shoes, usually sold at $5.99, will be offered at $2.99 by one store, and car coats for children, priced today at $6.99, will be slashed to $3.99 for the O.F.B.D. Sale.

Nylons will be pegged during O.F.B.D. at 25c a pair, and a national brand toothpaste, which normally sells for 31c, will be offered at 10c.
29c terry towels ends will be sold at 8c, and assorted cookies, a regular 29c value, for 9c.
$500 In Gift Certificates
As if this wasn't enough, shoppers will be also register for over $500 in gift certificates to be given away absolutely free. You can register at any of the participating stores, Wednesday through Saturday. At 5:30 p.m., Saturday, a drawing at the county courthouse will determine the lucky winners of certificates ranging in value from $5.00 to $25.00.
But, more of the bargains. You can get a year's newspaper subscription, a $4.00 value, for $2.00 during O.F.B.D., or have your shoes half-soled with rubber heels for $2.00. If you've been postponing new drapes for the home—the material during O.F.B.D. will only cost you 31c a yard. How are sheets for the bed? Worn out? Buy new ones that would normally cost you $1.50 for 88c.

Handwriting Set For 75c
Want a bonus buy in hard. O. F. B. D. offers $7.19 for a 50 pound can. What with children in school, pen and writing material always come in handy. How's the O.F.B.D. price of 75c pound for a pen, 5 cartridges and a handwriting book? Sure, it sounds great, because the regular price is $3.44. And what about cake mix for 10c, a $8.50 portrait for $5.50, or car accessories for 50 percent off a double blanket, regular $3.98 for $2.00, or costume jewelry at 50 percent off.
A jumbo size package of notebook paper which regularly sells for $3.00 will be offered for $2.00, and watches which retail for $21.95 for $14.95, tax included.

Ladies' panties will be at 2 for 25c as against the regular price of 27c each. Ladies' car coats, perfect for that cold weather which is just around the corner, will go at $8.99, a $14.98 value. Used TV sets will be sold for $35 and crew socks, national brand, at 5 pair for $1.00, a 49c each value.
Dresses For $3.00
Chuck roast can be had during O.F.B.D. for 45c and milk for 19c a quart. Vitamins, regularly priced at $6.00, for $4.00. A rack of dresses with values to $16.95 has an O.F.B.D. tag of $3.00, and a paper and wax towels dispenser which regularly cost $1.49 will be sold for 49c.
We could write forever—because they're hundreds more. Most merchants are also offering other bargains for Old Fashion Bargain Days.
Which stores are participating? Turn inside today's Herald for the advertisements, and then bustle up your bustle for an old-fashion shopping day of Old Fashion Bargains.

VOLUME 48—NO. 91      HAZARD, PERRY COUNTY, KENTUCKY, MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1958      COPY—10c

U.S. Senators To Appear Here

"Appreciation Day" To Honor Work of Senators For Area

U. S. Senator Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky will visit numerous counties in Southeastern and Eastern Kentucky next week (Oct. 6-11) as part of an extended tour that will carry him into nearly every county of the state before Congress convenes next January.
The week's highlight will be on Saturday, Oct. 11, when Senator Morton and his colleague, Senator Sherman Cooper, are honored at a Cooper-Morton Appreciation Day celebration at Hazard.
The celebration, sponsored by the North Fork Flood Control Association and the Buckhorn Watershed Association, will include a parade and speeches and a reception and buffet dinner for the Kentucky Senators.
Senator Morton will start his swing through the Seventh District and eastern fringes of the Eighth by flying to Ashland from Louisville on Monday, Oct. 6. He will spend the balance of the day in Boyd County. The following day, he will visit Louisa, Paintsville and Prestonsburg. Wednesday, Oct. 8, will be devoted to Pikeville and the Pike County area.
Hazard Homecoming
The Senator will spend Thursday, Oct. 9, traveling through part of the region's coal mining area, and several stops have been planned before his arrival in Hazard that night.
Leslie and Clay Counties in the Eighth District will occupy the Senator's attention on Friday with visits to Hyden and Manchester. The Hazard celebration Saturday will conclude the week's activities.
Senator Morton said that the statewide tour was undertaken to give him a personal insight to Kentucky's needs and problems before Congress convenes in January. The tour has been arranged largely on an informal basis.

U.K.R.E.A. Speakers

Dr. Irvin Lunger, President of Transylvania College, and Robert H. Montgomery, graduate professor of Economics at the University of Texas, will be principal speakers here during U.K.R.E.A.

Morton Asks $6 Million For Flood Controls

Senator Thruston B. Morton today recommended expenditure of more than $6 million on flood control projects in the Eastern Kentucky region for 1959-60.
Appearing before the Bureau of the Budget, the Kentucky Senator stressed that orderly development of water resources will provide a firm foundation for economic growth, remove the fear of destructive floods, and enable more productive use of abundant natural resources.
$300,000 For Fishtrap
Senator Morton urged that $300,000 be allocated during fiscal 1960 to continue advance engineering and design of the Fishtrap Reservoir at the headwaters of the Levisa Fork. The planning work on this important reservoir got under way with a $140,000 appropriation from the recent Congress.
The Kentuckian also recommended $2,500,000 to complete advance engineering and design and to start construction of the Pound Reservoir. He commented that although this project is located in Virginia, its construction is vital, along with Fishtrap Reservoir, to the control of floods in the Levisa Valley.
A third reservoir in the Levisa Basin, at Haysi, Va., is currently being restudied by the Corps of Engineers. Senator Morton said that completion of this work would enable him to make more specific recommendations for future work.
3 Million For Buckhorn
Appropriation of $3,527,000 was requested to complete construction of the Buckhorn Reservoir on the Middle Fork of the Kentucky River near Buckhorn, Perry County. In addition, Senator Morton urged allocation of $35,000 to resume the comprehensive survey of the Big Sandy River.
Senator Morton commented that his recommendations represented amounts which the Corps of Engineers could efficiently use during 1959-60 to insure uninterrupted growth of Eastern Kentucky's water resources program.

Vocational School Begin Evening Class

The Hazard Area Vocational School is beginning an evening class in electric arc and oxyacetylene welding, Monday, September 29, 1958.
This class is open to those people who are employed in some capacity in which a knowledge of welding would make them a more competent workman, or to people who are temporarily unemployed but normally work in a trade that requires welding.
This class will meet Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week and will be of 5 weeks duration. Anyone interested in taking this course should be at the Vocational School Welding Shop, located near the City Water Plant, today at 6:00 p.m. Students will be enrolled on a first come, first served basis.
J. A. Tucker, welder for the Blue Diamond Coal Company, will be in charge of the class.

Husband Shot By Wife In Cafe

Waitress Wife Held Under $1,000 Bond In Perry County Jail

A Hazard woman was placed in the Perry County jail this morning under $1,000 bond for shooting her husband at a North Main cafe early Saturday morning.
Mrs. Fred James Bowen, of Hazard, a waitress at the cafe, was arrested by city police moments after shooting her husband. Bowen had just returned to Hazard from "Alabama or Georgia," city police said, where he had been working.
City police said Bowen entered the cafe at around 10 a.m. Saturday. His wife was on duty and served him a cup of coffee.
She then went across the street, purchased a .38 pistol from a hardware store, and returned to the cafe and shot her husband, hiding the gun inside a paperbag.
The bullet entered his right side, Bowen was taken to the Mount Mary Hospital where his condition was reported as "fair" this afternoon.
Mrs. Bowen, charged with shooting and wounding with attempt to kill, appeared for examining trial in City Court this morning. She was held to the Perry County Grand Jury.

Secession Group Plans Meeting

Letcher County "secessionists" have called a meeting for the Letcher County Courthouse, tonight at 8 p.m., to discuss Kentucky 15 and the proposed Skyline Drive. Ray Collins, chairman of the group, announced today.
Senator Morton commented that his recommendations represented amounts which the Corps of Engineers could efficiently use during 1959-60 to insure uninterrupted growth of Eastern Kentucky's water resources program.

H'coming Queen

Pixie Jill Smith gets a check on the check from Willie Dawahare, president of the Hazard Booster's Club during halftime ceremonies at the Hazard-Whitesburg game, Friday night.
Miss Smith was crowned Homecoming Queen by Mayor Douglas Combs and presented the keys to the City as winner in the Homecoming Queen penny-a-vote contest. Named Maid of Honor was Miss Sidney Hancock.
The court included Miss Lois Dean Combs, Miss Joyce Pearlman, Miss Ann Davis and Miss Mickey Robinson.
The sailor cap Miss Smith wears is a last-minute substitute for the crown, which a member of the Booster Club left behind in his rush to get to the game.
Miss Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Smith, of Bulan.

Discuss Civil Defense Project

Hazard Boy Scout Pete Gullett, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. P. Gullett, and Donnie Vaughn, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Vaughn, discuss plans for the distribution of a Civil Defense brochure here Saturday, Oct. 11, with Joe Goodietter/Scoutmaster, standing, and Arlie Webb, of the Hazard Civil Air Patrol. The brochure to be distributed to all homes will provide instructions on what to do in an emergency.

Johnson Elected President Scottish Rite

A Hazard Scottish Rite Club with Charlie Johnson, 32-degree Mason, has been formed here.
The club was organized during a dinner at La Citadelle Thursday. Principal speaker was L. M. Gabriel, 32-degree Mason who is Registrar of Indiana Consistory in Covington. Host and master of ceremonies was Commissioner George Feltner, 32-degree.
Feltner was elected vice-president of the Scottish Rite, and J. Ross Bernard, 32-degree, elected secretary-treasurer. Charter members in addition to the officers include Mayor Douglas Combs, Curt Feltner, State Police Sergeant Orister Mahoney, Sam Garnett, Earl Campbell, and Herbert Johnson, all 32-degree Masons.
The following Master Masons, candidates for the Scottish Rite, attended as guests, Jimmy Garnett, Willie Dawahare, State Sergeant Willard Mitchell and Elmer R. Campbell.

Wyatt Calls For Road Work On Basis Of Area's Need

Wilson W. Wyatt told Perry County civic and business leaders today that construction of roads should be based on need, not political power. "The need for a re-engineered, re-built, modernized Kentucky 15 is great; it should be built," Wyatt said. He pledged that he would "launch the program promptly" when he is elected governor.
Wyatt pointed out that Kentucky Route 15 is one of the most important highways in the State. "It is," said Wyatt, "a lifeline road that ties the valleys and headwaters of the Red and upper Kentucky rivers to Central Kentucky. He continued, "I have traveled Route 15 from Winchester in Clark County through Powell and Wolfe Counties, to Breathitt and on into 115-mile distance from Hazard to Winchester. "And it's just as crooked," he said, "between Hazard and Whitesburg."
"This should be of particular interest," the candidate said, "to those people who live along Route 15, who remember the lofty plans and solemn promises outlined in great detail by the present State administration when it was running for office. If those promises could be exchanged for pavement, Route 15 would be one of the best roads in the State, and instead of 115 there would be only 80 miles distance from Hazard to Winchester."
Wyatt noted that qualified engineers estimate that if Route 15 were engineered by modern standards and freed of unnecessary curves, more than 35 miles could be cut from the route.

MY COLUMN

E. Hampton Barnette

Is molasses-making time over in Eastern Kentucky? I hope there was plenty of the cane raised, for that is a time of great delight in the mountains. I always liked to see the old lopeared mule go 'round and 'round endlessly grinding out the juice for the sorghum.

If you have not been to a "stirrin' off" you have missed one of the greatest fall events of rural life. I always loved it. The later it took to produce the skimmings the better it was. The brisk near-frosty nights when we use to play over the pile of cane blades, and crushed stalks while the elders skimmed away until well into the morning was a time never-to-be-forgotten.

While I lived at Whitesburg Jim Marlowe always brought me a gallon of Menifee County molasses in the fall, and they were something to go on buckwheat cakes and fresh sausage. I was talking with Dr. Splane, Paintsville, the other day about new sorghum, and he likes it too. So if any of you are coming down any way soon, and come through Menifee bring us down a gallon.

I took John DuPuy III, and J. K. Warmonhoven, Meadeville, Pa., ocean fishing last Saturday. Yes, we had luck. We hit a school of king fish, and took two nice ones. Others on the boat also made some catches. John caught two, one was a king fish about 8 pounds. It was rather a fighter for a kid from Pikeville, but he landed it. I caught one also.

I am not so sure all the fishermen would believe all the story of the fishing trip, but I feel sure Rev. William F. Pettus, pastor of the Methodist Church, Hazard, and Rev. A. L. Osborne, of Hindman, would believe any fish story I would tell, for they do some fishing themselves.

A thunder storm came up while we were far out in the Gulf Stream. I had never experienced a storm on the ocean before. We got as wet as a hound dog chasing a rabbit through the swamps. The fish did not bite too well while it was raining, but we hit this school of king fish that were as hungry as harvest hands. They hit hard for a few minutes, and that was it. But our take was good while they did hit.

This is a delightful time in Florida, particularly here in Fort Lauderdale, in the tropics. The nights are as warm as the days almost, and affords such a nice sleeping time for those who sleep at all.

I made a Florida room out of our Florida porch, by putting jalousies window all around. Now it is such a pleasant place for John and I to sleep. It overlooks our dock and canal, and we can hear the fish splashing out there under the soft tropical moon.

The orange crop in Florida seems to be a bumper. The green oranges and grape fruit will soon begin to turn orange color, and by late fall we will be getting the new crop. About all we have now is juice.

I have a daddy papaya and a mamma papaya on my lawn. This is the fourth crop for the mamma. Soon I will have plenty of them from the three trees. They cluster close to the upper leaves like little possums to their mother's breast. They bear continually for about two years.

The land of Ponce de Leon is a great country. We love every minute of it. One will never know our great America until he can spend some time in Florida among the live oaks, hibiscus, oranges, and other citrus fruits, lakes, rivers, beaches, and friendly people. Many have the idea that the people in Florida are "Out to get our money." Many of them are, and almost every night there are robberies, thefts, etc., in the cities. People come here from all over the country to make a mighty poor living stealing. They seldom get away with it.

I have found the people extremely friendly. I visit all over the city for First Methodist Church. The city is made up of such a cosmopolitan group that they love to have people come and see them, particularly the preacher. There are many great church people here.

The tourist season is starting now, and our great church is already overcrowded with people. We will open two services each Sunday morning very soon. One fine thing about people who come here for a visit they do attend church. We expand our facilities to meet the expanding crowds, and always have many people who attend our church year after year on their vacations down here.

We had with us this summer Dr. and Mrs. Fossett, Ft. Thomas, Dr. and Mrs. Bagby, Lexington the same Sunday. My Kentucky friends had better not pass me by when they come this-a-way.

U.S. Army Backs Off Decision To Convert Installation From Coal

The Army Corps of Engineers has agreed not to switch from coal to other fuels at Army installations until it considers the economies possible by installing modern coal equipment, the National Coal Association announced today.

The Army also abandoned and submitted them to the previously-approved plans to convert some 20 heating plants at Ft. Eustis, Va., from coal to fuel oil at a capital cost of nearly $1,000,000. Instead, it accepted the recommendations of the NCA Engineering Department and other coal interests to modernize coal-handling equipment in most of the plants, NCA disclosed. The Ft. Eustis decision saved an annual market for about 25,000 tons of coal.

The Army also announced it would re-study a proposed conversion at Ft. Campbell, where a decision to switch to gas had been imminent. It had also planned fuel conversions at five other installations which, together with Ft. Campbell, use about 170,000 tons of coal a year.

Corps Is Commended

"The Corps of Engineers is to be commended for recognizing the benefits of retaining coal, combined with modern handling and combustion equipment, as the reliable, economical fuel," said Tom Pickett, executive vice president of NCA. "This is a significant victory for the coal industry. I am gratified by the work of the NCA engineering department and all other interests which worked with it."

The battle of Ft. Eustis was a cooperative effort of NCA, the research and marketing division of the United Mine Workers of America, the fuel service engineering division of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Co., and offices of coal-states Congressmen, particularly Rep. Elizabeth Kee (D-W. Va.). Under their combined urging, the Army agreed to a restudy of the engineering figures on the proposed conversion. A new survey of the project was made last month by engineers from NCA, the Army, the Defense Department and the C. & O. NCA and C&O engineers studied the data

Happy riding... on modern, smooth-riding concrete

There's no "fighting the wheel"

...new-type concrete gives you the smoothest ride ever!

No bouncing and bumping! No dips and waves! Only concrete can be laid so flat... placed and leveled to such highly accurate engineering standards—not just pounded into shape.

Expect that smooth ride to last 50 years or more—for two big reasons. The first is the concrete itself, supported by a specially designed subbase that gives it greater strength. Second is "air entrainment," a new process, that prevents surface roughening by freezing and de-icers.

Sound reasons why concrete is the preferred pavement for the Interstate System and other vital roads.

Concrete increases in strength year by year

Concrete actually improves with age—gets up to 20% stronger in five years. Here's a durability "bonus" only concrete gives. Crushing resistance tests under laboratory conditions prove it. It's another reason why concrete lasts longer, costs less to maintain.

Army Revises Training Program

The US Army has revised its high school graduate technical training program it was announced today by Captain Frank M. Gornio, Commanding Officer, US Army Recruiting Main Station, Ashland.

Under the new system qualified high school graduates applying for any of the 107 technical courses offered by the Army will receive a guarantee of attendance within hours after application. Previously such guarantee required a minimum of ten (10) days.

Captain Gornio also stated that many of the more attractive courses are presently being offered, ranging from a 5 weeks course in postal operations to 41 weeks required for completion of the Nike Universal Fire Control System Maintenance course.

In addition to the many highly technical courses available in missiles, radio and radar a qualified applicant may select training in such fields as refrigeration, diesel, lithographic platemaking, metal working, photography and many more. Certain of these technical courses are also available to qualified Women's Army Corps applicants.

Complete information on the schools available under the "Graduate Specialist Program" may be obtained by contacting Sergeant Sgt. Cook, your local Army Recruiter, at North Main Street, Hazard or telephone Main 1075.

Residual Fuel Oil Price Reductions Brings Demand For Gov'mnt Action

Current price cuts in residual fuel oil along the East Coast show the immediate need for the government to clamp down on imports of that fuel, a coal industry spokesman said today. Tom Pickett, executive vice president of the National Coal Association, charged that international oil firms are trying to capture more coal markets by setting price tags with which no domestic fuel industry can compete.

The flood of imported residual oil has continued this year at almost the 1957 rate because of "convenient price oscillations" on this foreign fuel have enabled importers to "remain aloof" from the general business decline, Mr. Pickett said in a speech prepared for the Pocahontas Operators' Association.

The overall decrease in fuel consumption along the East Coast in 1958 is not reflected in oil imports, Mr. Pickett said. "As a consequence, coal has incurred far more than a fair share of the fuel losses accompanying the industrial decline."

The "special privileges" accruing to oil importers are largely responsible for increased unemployment in West Virginia, and other coal-producing areas which normally supply the East Coast, he said.

Current oil import schedules are in complete defiance of Congress' intent to reduce excessive imports of foreign oil, Mr. Pickett said. He noted that the Reciprocal Trade Act was extended this year only after the Senate insisted on an amendment increasing protection for domestic industries.

Davis Says Perry's Hunters Never Had It Better To Bag Buck

Perry county hunters, eyeing the opening of the big end of the Kentucky hunting season on November 20, never had it better.

So says Perry county Conservation Officer Ora Davis in a special pre-season report on the state's 1958 hunting possibilities. Davis said early reports from biologists indicate rabbit, quail and squirrel populations are steadily increasing and that this should be a banner hunting year on a statewide level.

There will be minor local area fluctuations of game, but Davis said the overall picture is bright.

He pointed particularly to the upcoming gun deer season. The season opens on November 27 and runs through November 30 with a hunters' choice season (bucks or does) the last two days of the hunt. Biologists say deer are up in all of the open counties and that hunting success should be greater this year than last.

On the local level Davis predicted good hunting for rabbits and squirrel and fair hunting for quail, the state's popular species. "All in all, it adds up to a

Knott Soil Bank Open For 'Eligible' Land

Any farmer who has cropland which is regularly used for cultivated crops or tame hay is eligible to participate in the 1959 Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank, Chairman Daniel Cornett of the Knott County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee announced today.

Using Conservation Reserve regulations, the Chairman defined "eligible" and "ineligible" land for the program as follows:

Eligible land includes: (1) Any land from which a crop was harvested or which was in regular crop rotation in 1958, and (2) land from which tame hay was harvested for hay or silage in either 1957 or 1958. Tame hay is defined as "a stand of perennial grasses or legumes normally established to hay by land preparation and seeding."

Bige Campbell In Mine Accident

Clara G. Kelly
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore Gilford of Austin, Ind., are the proud parents of a 7-lb baby daughter, born Sept. 15th. They have named her Cheryl Ann. We bet that Mari and Howard Gilford are proud as peacocks of their little grand-daughter. The Gilfords are former residents of Combs.

Killed Instantly in Mine
Bige Campbell was killed instantly in a mine accident at the L & E Coal Company on Cynthiana. He was a brother-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Cass Collins of Combs. The funeral was held at the Combs Baptist Church Wednesday at 2:00 p.m., with the Rev. S. C. Couch, officiating. We wish to extend our sympathy to the bereaved family.

Jim Morris is improving at the Miners Hospital. Jim a deputy sheriff, was shot when he stopped to give assistance to some people in a stalled car early Sunday morning. So far the persons have not been apprehended.

Mrs. J. B. Gabbard of Walkertown was the week end guest of her daughter, Mrs. Tommy Kelly.

What's The Use

Here we go again. They say that a man comes into this world against his consent and leaves it against his will. When he is little the big girls kiss him but when he is big the little girls kiss him.

He is active in politics, it is for graft. If he is not interested in politics, he is no good to the country. If he makes a lot of money he is dishonest. If he is poor, he is a bad man. If he needs credit, he can't get it. If he is prosperous, everyone wants to do something for him. If he is religious, he is a hypocrite. If he doesn't go to church, he is a hardened sinner. ## Brashear Outlines Procedure for Getting Cropland Under Soil Bank Program

Deadline For Rate Request Is October 10

A step-by-step description of how a farmer can put all or part of his land in the 1959 Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank was given here today by Green B. Brashear, Chairman of the Perry County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

He emphasized that the first and most important step is for a farmer to ask the County ASC Committee to establish maximum annual payment rates for his farm. Payment rates will not be established for a farm unless requested by the farmer. At the same time, the farmer should furnish the Committee with information on acreage and yields for his farm and give an estimate of the value of his land. This information is needed before the rates can be established. The deadline for farmers to request that rates be established for their farms is Oct. 10, 1958.

On the basis of the information supplied by the farmer and other records, the County ASC Office will establish maximum annual rates of payment for the farm and will send the farmer an application form for placing land in the program. The application form will show the rates established for the farm.

The farmer then decides how much cropland he wants to put in the Conservation Reserve, how long he wants his contract to run, and the rate of annual payment at which he will offer his land. He enters this information on the application form. The application must be returned to the County ASC Committee on or before Oct. 14, 1958, the deadline for filing applications.

In connection with the filling out of this application, Chairman Brashear pointed out that a farmer may offer to put land in the Conservation Reserve at less than the maximum annual payment rate established for his farm. He stressed that this could be particularly important since priority in accepting applications will be given to farmers who make the best offers. Thus, the farmer who offers land at less than the maximum rate set for his farm will be more certain of having his application accepted.

Contracts will be offered to farmers after the deadline for returning applications to the county ASC office will visit the farm and examine it for eligibility and measurement of acreage. Where only part of the cropland of a farm is offered for the Reserve, the land will be examined to determine if it is substantially as productive as the average of all cropland on the farm. Then, Chairman Green B. Brashear said, the contract is ready for the signature of the farmer and the approval of the County ASC Committee.

Any farmer can participate in the Conservation Reserve who has cropland which is regularly used for cultivated crops or tame hay.

Area Planning Commission Will Meet October 6

Frankfort — The Eastern Kentucky Regional Planning Commission will have its 13th monthly meeting at Morehead State College, Oct. 6. The meeting is scheduled for 9:00 a. m., C.S.T., and will last thru most of the day.

The Commission observed its first anniversary at its meeting in Hazard last month, and will begin its second year of discussion and preparation of a comprehensive planning and development program, aimed at relieving the chronic economic and other ills of Eastern Kentucky.

At the Morehead meeting, the nine man panel will give principal attention to continuing its study of highway problems, with special discussion of the commission's general recommendations made recently to the Department of Highways. The Commission set forth recommended priorities for road developments of greatest need in the area in a recent meeting with Commissioner Ward Oates and other highway department officials.

Additional items to be discussed by the commission include the status of proposed water usage and flood control projects affecting Eastern Kentucky, initial planning for preparation of comprehensive tourist promotion for the area, and the possibilities of establishment of a commercial helicopter firm to serve the region.

The latter is being considered in the light of the benefits to be derived by having available helicopter service to serve high priority industrial and other travel needs, including emergency requirements for medical treatment.

A word of advice to you homemakers who still might be doing a bit of canning. Better watch those jars when removing them from a pressure cooker. I had the unpleasant experience of having the top blow off a can of apples last week. Resulted in second degree burns on my arm and hands.

News in Viper has been scarce these past few weeks but now that vacations are over and schools open, there just doesn't seem to be anything to report. However, if you have an item of interest please let me hear from you.
